

Real Life Sessions

Contributed by Goddess
Friday, 30 November 2007
Last Updated Saturday, 01 December 2007

For trusted and loyal slaves I offer the chance of a one to one offline session however I am a Professional Dominatrix, so don't offend me by asking for sex.

Whilst I consider myself a fair but harsh Mistress , the important thing is for you to be clear about your wants, needs and limits. These should be communicated clearly to me in advance of a session, and it is a requirement of mine that an informal 'Q&A' session be held in advance of an actual session.

Remember I will always respect your wishes and limits - and I expect you to respect mine. A session will always be built around your needs and desires however I reserve the right to add a few surprises along the way.

Initially, all sessions and services will be offered online. "In person" sessions are available , usually in a high class third party location such as a hotel or rented villa. Because of my schedule I normally reserve these sessions for those that have served me over time and that have earned the right to call themselves a slave of mine.

For a session I expect a minimum tribute to cover my time and expenses of 250 euros/175 pounds an hour for the first hour, then 220 euros/150 pounds for each hour thereafter.

I require that all slaves that are making the step from online to offline sessions, or slaves introduced by trusted associates, go through a formal introduction session before any other type of sessions takes place. My minimum tribute is 220 Euros / 150 Pounds and the session will last up to 90 minutes. This will involve discussion of your desires and expectations, your limits, your medical background and any key requirements you may have. I might require you to be fully naked during formal introductions and there may be light humiliation or bondage involved.

Remember that my minimum hourly tribute rate does not include travel time or expenses, hotel fees or special items. These will be charged to you. I will require half of your session tribute and all of the estimated expenses in advance, the balance payable just before the session starts. Please contact me to discuss booking requirements.