For all you wayward submissives out there I offer an online training program, tailored to each individual's needs and fetishes.

In the first week of your training we will discuss by email your background, fantasies, needs, limits and expectations. We will discuss any medical issues you may have that would impact on your ability to train and serve me, and you will send me a full length nude photo, + 2 photos of your penis (one hard, one soft) for your file.

Once we have exchanged up to 3 emails and you have supplied all the needed information I will prepare a weekly training plan with tasks and assignments.

From the second week you will be responsible for following your training and sending me proof that you have completed your tasks and training schedule. How long your training will take depends on each individual and I have found some slaves are only capable of one important task a week whilst others are able to follow a much more intensive training schedule.

Once you have completed your training and I am satisfied with you then you may be considered as one of my collared slaves. All slaves that complete their training to my satisfaction will be rewarded with a 30 minute webcam session.

The minimum tribute I expect for online training is an initial 100 euros/75 pounds. This covers the time involved in discussing your background and fetishes, plus preparing a personalised training program for you. From the second week you must be prepared to tribute for at least one 30 min webcam session a week as well as offer a minimal weekly tribute of 30 euros/20 pounds to cover my time in sending your weekly email. Slaves that wish to train at a more rapid pace will be expected to tribute accordingly.

The advantages of going through and completing training include:

- Learning how to be a better slave.
- Learning how to communicate correctly with a dominant woman
- Incorporate female domination into your everyday life
- Have a tangible link with me, the Goddess bitch that will dominate your life
- Experience your fantasies and push your limitations
- Have the opportunity to become a collared slave and be considered my property and serve me online and offline
- Perform regular tasks for your Mistress
- Be able to express your desires and fulfill them

You can contact me by email to discuss training options or if you wish to proceed, make the minimum initial tribute and then contact me by email or IM.

In cases where you do not own a webcam or have access to a high speed internet link I will require you to send photographic evidence of your compliance with my training program.
